

The Journal of Political Science (JPS) is the official journal of the Department of Political Science, Government College University, Lahore. The JPS is an annual research journal which has been in publication since 1978 and so far it has published 38 issues. It is available both online and in paperback. It publishes peer-reviewed original articles concerning to Political Science and also includes articles on International Relations, Public Policy and Governance and regional studies.

The JPS is committed to upholding academic integrity and to provide a platform to seasoned as well as young researchers to present and share their research with the fellow academics. The Journal is committed to upholding the research ethics and ensuring that highest quality of research standards have been observed by the contributing authors. All manuscripts are subject to a double-blind peer review process and at least 2 rounds are coordinated by the Editorial Team responsible for the respective submission track. The JPS strictly follows the guidelines given by the Higher Education Commission (HEC) and currently it falls in the "Y" category of HEC recognized research journals. HRJS: <https://hjrs.hec.gov.pk/>